Although Norsemen had explored and colonized the northeast coast of America five hundred years before, these historical narratives describe recorded atrocities, war crimes, and extirpation of Aboriginal Americans and their cultures after the 1492 "discovery" of the Americas by Europeans. Ten million buffalo almost became extinct, other species did.

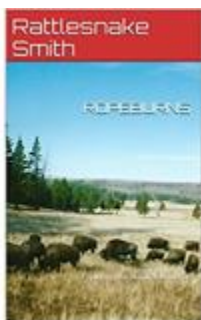

COCKLEBURR: DAD'S NICKNAME FOR ME (EXPLORING OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NATURAL UNIVERSE, E-CHAPBOOK SERIES, #4) <http://tinyurl.com/Cockleburr-Sue> AMAZON.COM

Readers have asked to know more about the author, so here are narratives about the early chronology of my life and somewhat of a case study of my adversarial relationship with my father. He was 61 when he died from a pulmonary embolism (a floor jack flipped from under a car and the handle hit him on the arm; the next day a blood clot went to his lung). I was 21, newly married with a new baby and attending college in California.
